This home was part of the 1952 Home Show, and it was built to impress. It has a very unique layout with the bedrooms and bathroom on the main level, and kitchen and living room on the walkout level. It features solid maple and mahogany trim, exposed beam ceilings, floor to ceiling windows, tile flooring, a laundry shoot, and a master control panel that operates all the lights in the house. Modern upgrades include commercial-grade carpet tiles, new paint, and a remodeled kitchen with new appliances. This all sits on a half-acre lot in a private park-like setting, and backs up to the Walnut Creek Greenbelt and Bike Trail. It's perfect for nature lovers and outdoor enthusiasts, but still just minutes to Downtown and West Des Moines.
